

Crevice Character Descriptions

Elery Hearst: Mine Owner for Hearst Stone. Tawny-brown curly hair, blue/green eyes, about 5 ft 8 in tall. Not naturally guarded but forced to be because she's keeping a secret for dad. Haunted by guilt for what happened to her brother as a kid.

Lucan Milner: Rescue Tracker with his black lab, Sienna. Golden brown hair, golden brown eyes, about 6 ft 2 in tall. Adventurous, a bit of an adrenaline junkie who channels that in to helping people. Confused by his emotions when it comes to Elery because she's responsible for his brother's death.

Chad Milner: Lucan's twin brother and Miner at Hearst Stone Mine. Killed in mine accident because of unmaintained machinery.

Ron Gremming: Hearst Stone Mine Supervisor, works for Elery. Dark hair, dark eyes, a little taller than Lucan. Abrupt, but charming. Admires Elery's ambition to keep the mine running. Able to compartmentalize his emotions and encourages Elery to do the same when Chad Milner dies.

Jayna Rowan: Volcanologist and Owner of Rowan Geologic Consulting. Fired from her first job with the USGS because of her beliefs, she is now trying to start her own consulting firm. Light brown hair, blue eyes, about 5 ft 8 in tall. A mysterious client hires her to search for gold ore in the area. When she meets Elery, she becomes involved in the search for Elery's brother.

Garrick Hearst: Elery's brother and Treasure Hunter. Obsessed with finding the Lost Dutchman Mine. Jet-black hair, chocolate-brown eyes. Falls into a crevice while searching for the mine with Angela Harmon.

Angela Harmon: Descendant of the woman who cared for the Lost Dutchman before he died. Layered blond hair, expressive eyes. Believes she has information that will locate the mine and convinces Garrick to search with her.

Jacob Waltz: Miner known as the Lost Dutchman. Died in 1891 with gold from an unidentified mine under his bed. The source of the gold has never been found. Not much else is known about him.